

Church Staff Compensation & Tax Laws

Missteps vs. Misdemeanors. Almost all churches commit missteps (well intended practices that just happen to be wrong) re: financial and tax related issues because of the complexities of being a non-profit entity in a largely for-profit culture. Local accountants and tax preparers often make missteps on ministerial tax returns if they are unfamiliar with Richard Hammer's 300 page guide on the subject. Church staff, treasurers, and finance teams rarely commit misdemeanors (intentionally wrongful or illegal practices), but sadly, it does happen. All of this is why it is wise to seek third party counsel.

Protecting Integrity. This is the goal of asking a third party to review your church practices. We serve you as collaborators, not Investigators, by offering you many years of ministry experience within our staff. We will help you protect your integrity in the eyes of the church family by helping you: 1) Correct any missteps; 2) Keep accurate records; and 3) Have many eyes watching over your church financial practices. This document will get you in the ballpark, but please feel free to call us.

Church Staff & the IRS. There are three ways to view staff in reporting compensation to the IRS:

Employee Only (W-2)	Dual Status (W-2) (Employee & Self-Employed)	Self Employed Only (1099)

Housing Allowance (see attached Sample Housing Allowance Agreement)

1. Must be designated in advance via a signed annual agreement
2. Set the amount higher than expected expenses for the coming year
3. Document all ACTUAL expenses paid out during the year
 - a. Spent amount is not included in calculating Federal Income Tax
 - b. Unspent amt. is reported and included in calculating Fed. Inc. Tax
4. Total Housing Allowance IS included in calculating SECA Tax

Hiring an Accountant

1. Richard Hammer's Tax Guide is the "Bible" for IRS/Church issues. Make sure they are familiar with this.
